

Dr Darlie Koshy nominated to Design Singapore Council's international advisory panel

AEPC's director general for education and training initiatives Darlie Koshy has been invited to be in international advisory panel of the Design Singapore Council.

The panel was established in 2004 to advise the Design Singapore Council on its long-term strategy of developing design in Singapore into the one key pillars of the economic growth.

Other members in the committee include Mr Edmund Cheng, chairman IAP and deputy chairman of Wing Tai Holdings Limited, Mr Christopher E Bangle, partner and managing director of Chris Bangle Association SRL, Mr Steve Hayden, vice-chairman of Ogilvy & Mather Worldwide, Mr Toyo Ito, architect at Toyo Ito & Associates, Mr. Dick Powell, industrial and product designer at Seymourpowell, Mr Richard Seymour, industrial and product designer at Seymourpowell.

Dr Koshy drafted and formulated India's national design policy which was approved by the union cabinet in February 2007.