

Koshy gets IIT alumni award

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Ahmedabad: The Indian Institute of Technology (IIT)-Delhi Alumni Association has decided to confer the award for 'Outstanding Contribution to National Development 2007-2008' to director of National Institute of Design (NID), Dr Darlie Koshy.

Along with Koshy, director of Thermadyne Pvt Ltd, Rash-mi Nagabhushan; and chairman, New Delhi Municipal Council (NDMC), Parimal Rai have also been chosen for the award and will receive a plaque and a citation at the IIT seminar hall on April 26.

The award was instituted in 1999 to recognize outstanding contribution of alumni of IIT Delhi towards national development and to create awareness on the achievement and contributions of the institutes alumni in various aspects of national development.

The award winners are selected from those nominated on the basis of exceptional achievement and excellence in their chosen fields. Their role as leaders and role models, their contribution in development of talent and commitment to ethics and values are also a criteria.

Dr Darlie Koshy

This award to Koshy is expected to give momentum to the design movement in the country for which he has been creating awareness and taking proactive steps.